For any clarification regarding this process, please contact the Registration team at registration@eacts.co.uk

Satellite Programming and Content

The full allocated satellite slot, as notified in advance by EACTS, must be used. It is imperative that the scheduled time is not exceeded.

EACTS cannot be held liable for competing programmes which may address the same topic(s).

EACTS will make reasonable efforts to avoid programme conflicts and/or session overruns that might affect attendance or the start times of approved satellite meetings, however it cannot be held responsible for these.

The EACTS name, logo, and other intellectual property may not be used on any announcement, including email, sign, publication, or other material, without the prior written approval of EACTS. A minimum of 5 business days are required for EACTS review of promotional materials.

All invitations, promotional materials, and other materials related to the activity, print or electronic, must include the following statement: "This industry-sponsored activity will be held in conjunction with the EACTS 34th Annual Meeting. It is not part of the official scientific programme of EACTS."

Force Majeure

In the event that the Annual Meeting cannot be held due to events beyond the control of EACTS, the Association cannot be held liable by participants for the refund of any Sponsorship Fees, or any damages, costs, expenses or losses incurred, whether directly or indirectly, as a result of the cancellation or postponement of the Annual Meeting.
